Introduction

The Company was founded in 1957. Since then, our corporate focus has been on refining the high-precision press processing technologies and related die production technologies. Our first and foremost mission has been to have our customers satisfied and to that end, we have continued to strive at all times for developing new technologies by combining press technologies and die manufacturing technologies at high levels and advancing them to the next level of perfection.

Our automated press processing technologies employed on precision press products are very highly regarded in the industry and our products ranging in a wide variety of fields are highly recognized and evaluated, particularly in the fields of car parts and battery parts manufacturing. We believe that such achievements of the Company are thanks to our customers, vendors and other business associates for their support and encouragement and we are very grateful.

The Company's core business is to provide precision press processing solution to industry. To insure our ability to give our customers top quality products to their satisfaction and trust, we are committed at all times to improve our capabilities, introduce new technologies and apply effective quality assurance programs with which the manufacturing of higher quality products can be assured. We are determined to save no efforts and resources to remain competitive and become a technology-creation company. We will continue to strive for growth and to become a company well accepted and recognized throughout the 21st century, to provide our employees, who are dedicated to manufacturing and are full of vitalities, with a pleasant working atmosphere, to prosper hand in hand with our customers and in the end to contribute to the benefits and welfare of the society.

We would appreciate your continuing support and encouragement in the future.
